

Divine Lace.

Hi Gorgeous!

The more that we as women embody our bodies as lingerie the more lacy the design will become. This 60 day planner is designed in a unique and beautiful way. Instead of scheduling and organizing our bodies, we are now designing ourselves as lingerie! In the mornings as part of your waking morning routine choose which one of the 7 lingerie sets that you want to embody for the day and circle that one (Soft, sensual, erotic, silk, crystal, satin, or lace) you can even choose multiple styles if you like! In the evenings examine what you put into your design that day...i.e. How was your diet? Did you workout? And how much sleep had you filled your body up with the night before in order to make it through your day?

After a woman slips out of her lingerie she is left with her perfume that she has on which is where the third category of the day, what perfume do you plan to lay on yourself tomorrow? A perfume is something about a woman that only she knows. Will you select a perfume with a heavenly scent? A perfume that is from the “sexy” category? Or will you wear a something that is innocent? The secret to a woman is her lingerie. Whether she is wearing it or whether it’s on the floor. As a woman you were meant to live in your body like lingerie morning, noon, and night. Welcome to the 60-day lingerie planner for designing yourself as lace!

Become Fantasy Lingerie. Your lace design is within you.

A woman with dark hair is shown from the waist up, wearing black lace lingerie. She is posing with her right hand behind her head and her left hand resting on her chest. The lighting is dramatic, with a strong light source from the left, creating highlights on her skin and hair against a dark blue background. The text "Divine Lace." is overlaid in a white, elegant script font across the lower portion of the image.
