

Hi Gorgeous, step inside your dressing room

Welcome to the dressing room of who you are as a woman. Which dresses do you select about body image to wear? Expensive Lacey extra feminine dresses that give your body image the perfect shape for your body to wear - or poorly cut dresses that make your body image uncomfortable and unflattering to wear on your body?

Do you wear sexy lingerie of the most fabulous attitude towards your body that you are secretly wearing under your cute summer dress or are you wearing misshapen lumpy bras and old attitudes and panties that are showing up as unseemly bumps right on your beautiful summer dress.

Just as clothes need the proper foundation under them to be worn properly your body needs the proper attitude towards her to worn as beautifully as she can be worn as well.

You alone get to select the shoes that you wear about the thoughts about your body. Do you wear thoughts that are like shoes that pinch your toes or do you wear shoes that are both relaxing and sexy to wear and choose thoughts that make your feet shrink?

Are you wearing thoughts about your body that feel like silk or are you wearing thoughts that are leaving scratches, like a scratch fabric on your body?

In the dressing room you alone get to design your own perfect couture fit of who you are as a woman.
